Pay Hike Urged For Rail Yard Workers

Boost Is Denied For Trainmen And Conductors

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(AP)—A presidential board today recommended a 40-hour week and an 18-cent hourly wage increase for about 75,000 railroad yard service employees. It recommended denial of wage boosts for about 125,000 trainmen and conductors.

The emergency board filed its report with President Truman. Such recommendations usually are the basis for settling rail labor disputes.

The railroads and two unions involved—the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and Order of Railroad Conductors—now have 90 days in which to negotiate under the Railway Labor Act. Before the unions could take strike action.

The board recommended that the 40-hour week and 18-cent hourly wage boost for yard service employees, represented by the two unions, become effective next Oct. 1. These workers now have a 48-hour work week.

The unions had asked for the same pay for a 40-hour week as they had received for the 48-hour week. In denying this demand, the board said:

"The higher rates (with the 18-cent hourly increase) together with added opportunities for overtime work at time and one-half after 40 hours, would tend to offset any substantial reduction in take-home pay occasioned by the shorter weekly hours."

The board estimated that the increased cost to the railroads of the recommendations for the yard service employees would be about $40,000,000 a year.

The 18-cent boost, the board said, would raise the average hourly rate of the yard workers to $1.76 an hour.

Members of the board were Justice Roger J. McDonald of the Utah Supreme Court, and Professor J. M. McLaughlin of the Indiana Supreme Court, and Professor J. M. McLaughlin of the Indiana Supreme Court, and Professor J. M. McLaughlin of the Indiana Supreme Court.

BAHREIN ISLAND, Persian Gulf, June 15.—(AP)—A big Air France plane crashed in the Persian Gulf last night, and 39 of the 52 persons it carried are feared dead. The craft plunged into the Gulf at almost the same spot where another Air France plane crashed two days ago with a loss of 46 lives.

Officials said 13 persons had been rescued by early afternoon, including five of the crew of eight. Twelve infants were reported to have been aboard the plane. Only one is known saved.

This plane and the sister C-54 Skymaster which crashed two days ago were en route from India to Paris. Officials have not discarded the possibility of sabotage by adherents of the Indian Communists who are fighting the French.

Air France officials in Paris said the plane carried 44 passengers and eight crew members. The officials said the search of the area was continuing with more than 100 small fishing boats scouring the area.

American and British Air Force planes based in the Gulf area joined the search, but a low ceiling hampered their efforts. High winds and choppy waters made it unlikely that life rafts from the plane could stay afloat for long.

Survivors all were reported to be French citizens.

The circumstances of both crashes were similar. Both planes went down as they were preparing to land at Bahrain, 20 miles off Saudi Arabia's east coast. Each sent a last message announcing preparations for landing.

Seven Counties Included In Sixth Congressional District Show Heavy Population Losses In 1950 Census

BY DON MORRISSEY
Daily Sun Staff

Preliminary census figures completed for the sixth district show the eight counties had average increase in population losses to the tune of better than four per cent above the 1930-1940 losses. The eight counties had an average loss of 1.2 per cent between 1930 and 1940. This increased to 13 per cent between 1940 and 1950.

The district had a net loss in population of 24,717 between 1930 and 1940. This jumped to 35,876 between 1940 and 1950. The average loss per county in the 1940 census was 3,531, and 5,082 in the 1950 report.

Of the eight counties in the district, all but Brazos showed population losses during the past two decades. Brazos gained 23.1 per cent, or 6,288, in the 1940 count, and went up 41 per cent, or 11,287, in the 1950 report.

George E. Adams said the 1940-1950 increase was principally due to the inclusions of students and their families at Texas A. and M., and at Allen Academy.

"In 1940," he said, "these students were credited to their home communities."

Comparative gains and losses for the counties in the last two census follow:

Peruvian Rebels Reported Routed From Arequipa

LIMA, Peru, June 15.—(AP)—At least 40 persons were believed to have been killed in a two-day revolt during which rebels captured most of the city of Arequipa. The government announced loyal troops, moving into the city, had put down the rebellion.

The government blamed Communists for the uprising.

Arequipa, with a population of 93,000, is Peru's second largest city. The rebels at one time held the city, both military headquarters, the airport, a radio station and other buildings.

No official figures on casualties were announced, but there were many wounded in addition to the 40 estimated dead.

Loyal troops crushed the revolt as soon as they reached the city, the government announcement said. Censorship, "banned when the revolt began, was lifted this morning."

While the rebels held control of Arequipa they announced by radio that "many places in Southern Peru have revolted against the government." But authorities here said the uprising was confined to Arequipa and that quiet prevails in the rest of the country.

Some persons were reported to have been arrested by the government. Loyal troops held complete control, the government said, and the task of restoring the city to normal is under way.

Thomas and Ives Propose Special Investigating Unit

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(AP)—Senators Elbert Thomas (D-Utah) and Ives (D-NY) proposed in the Senate today that Congress set up a seven-member commission to make all investigations of Communist infiltration in government.

The proposal was viewed as a direct outgrowth of the controversy over the senate's inquiry into Communist-infiltration charges against a Communist-infiltration committee.

Thomas and Ives suggested that the commission be composed of two senators, two representatives and three public members.

Under the proposed rules of appointment they laid down the President would select a panel of private individuals from which the three public members would be named. The congressional representatives would be split evenly between the two major parties, but two of the three public members could represent one party.

Thomas said in a speech prepared for the senate that he does not join in criticism of a senate foreign relations subcommittee, headed by Senator Tydings (D-Md.). This group is investigating Communist charges made by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.). Thomas is a member of the full foreign relations committee.

He said, however, that inquiries "embodying the grave nature of the Tydings investigation should be conducted with complete disregard for personal and party prejudice."

Ives said in a statement that the appointment of public members who were "not presently active in the political arena would minimize those excesses which sometimes come with potential motivation."

Texas Oil Production Put On 21-Day Basis For July

AUSTIN, June 15.—(AP)—The Texas Railroad Commission today ordered a 66,706 barrel per day increase in the July oil allowable over June. This will permit flow of 2,445,935 barrels of crude daily.

The increase was achieved by adding two days to the statewide producing schedule, boosting it 21 days, but leaving the East Texas field 19 days.

At the same time, the commission did away with the special allowances granted low cold test wells since May, thus placing those fields on parity with other producing fields.

The Commission issued a statement with its July oil order saying it was "glad to be able thus to do away with the special allowances granted to special types of crudes that existed in Texas since May."

They believe that special allowances should not be granted except under unusual circumstances. These exceptions were made under the threat of importation of oil.

The Commission said the low cold test crude fields will now be on the 1947 acreage depth yardstick, plus 45 per cent of the difference between the yardstick and the mer.

The Commission estimated July production of natural gas, oil and distillate would total 306,610 barrels per day, raising the total Texas allowable of crude, gasoline and distillate to 2,752,546 barrels per day.

East Texas was left on 19 days because of testimony at today's state-wide oil hearing that average bottomhole pressure has dropped the past two months, the Commission said.

Oil industry spokesmen disagreed at the hearing on how many producing days should be allowed in July.

J. A. Neath of Humble Oil and Refining Co. urged caution. He suggested a one-day boost.

"I don't think we have a scarcity of oil in Texas. We haven't had many people knocking at our door for more oil," he told the Commission.

Noting that national stocks of crude total 238,772,000 barrels, Thompson recalled that top oil officials last month testified minimum stocks should be 240 million barrels.

"If we should be short come winter, it would be a gross error on the part of this regulatory body," he declared.

Federal Grand Jury Clears Officials Of Mishandling Amerasia Papers Case

NEW YORK, June 15.—(AP)—A special grand jury today cleared government officials and agencies of any wrongdoing in the Amerasia case, clearing them of any wrongdoing in the Amerasia case, clearing them of any wrongdoing in the Amerasia case.

The grand jury began probing the Amerasia case two weeks ago. The case involved the 1945 theft of 1,700 government documents, some of which were recovered by the FBI in the New York office of the magazine Amerasia, now defunct.

Praising the FBI for the role it played in the case, the jury said it felt that had espionage laws been different, "the prosecution would have been entirely different."

"Other telling factors involved certain legal procedures which, if followed, might have revealed to the enemy information that it was essential should be held," the President continued.

W. V. Harrison Is Found Dead Near Farm Tank

FROST, June 15.—(AP)—W. V. Harrison, 65, superintendent of the Frost schools for 28 years, prominent Democrat and school leader, was found dead at a tank on his farm four miles northeast of town Wednesday afternoon. A .410 shotgun was nearby.

Owen Sheppard, justice of the peace, Precinct 5, Blooming Grove, conducted an investigation. Judge Sheppard returned a coroner's verdict of "death from gunshot wounds, self-inflicted."

A charge from a shotgun had entered the head near the left ear, officers said.

Harrison was democratic precinct chairman at Frost and was chairman of the Navarro County Democratic convention two years ago. He has been active in rural school circles of the State Teachers association for many years and headed various panels and district committees. He was prominent in state Democratic circles and conventions.

Surviving are his wife of Frost; a son, Douglas Harrison, Frost; a daughter, Mrs. Johnny Moore, Lubbock; two sisters and a brother.

Funeral services were held from the Frost Baptist church Thursday at 4 p. m. with burial in the Frost cemetery. The rites were conducted by Rev. C. C. Bill, pastor of the church, and Rev. A. W. Gordon, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Other survivors were Rex Patterson, Fletcher Bennett, Jerry Stockard, Corsicana; Charles Martin, Truman Newsom and Smith Dickerson.

Tax Agreement Believed Reached At Demo Huddle

BY FRANCIS M. LE MAY
WASHINGTON, June 15.—(AP)—Democratic tax law drafters were reported today, after a surprise secret huddle, to be in virtual agreement on a billion-dollar-plus excise tax cutting bill that could avoid a presidential veto.

The huddle, understood to have been attended by house ways and means Democrats and Speaker Rayburn, changed the whole outlook for tax legislation, which had been dark for this session.

They made no announcement, but there were indications their minds were about made up to:

1. Ram through a bill slashing excise taxes by $1,000,000,000 on jewelry, furs, luggage, toilet preparations, movie tickets, travel tickets, hats, bottle warmers and scores of other items.
2. Put into the bill a hike in the income tax rate for large corporations, perhaps from the present 38 per cent to 41 per cent—to collect about $500,000,000 additional from these corporations annually.
3. Meet a July 1 deadline for house ways and means, so that the senate will have time to act before the present congress adjourns.

The secret meeting developed the first strong indication that the 25-member ways and means committee will approve a boost in corporation income taxes, to avoid President Truman's threat to veto the bill if it fails to offset the excise cut by larger taxes in other directions.

The president proposed a four-point increase in the corporation tax rate to pick-up $675,000,000 annually but the committee Democrats are leaning toward a three-point jump. It is understood also that the committee Democrats are going to accept the administration's proposal for elimination of the present so-called "notch" provision in the corporate tax.

Under present law the corporate income rate is 38 per cent on the first $50,000; 23 per cent on the next $15,000; 25 per cent on the next $5,000; all over $25,000 would be taxed at the general corporate rate now 38 per cent; might become 41 per cent.

This eliminates the 53 per cent

All Residents Of County Invited To Hospital Rites

LOS ANGELES, June 15.—(AP)—Los Angeles population in preliminary 1950 census figures is 1,954,036, which according to latest estimates would make it larger than Philadelphia, the nation's third largest city.

Plans are being made for the ground-breaking ceremony of the new $1,650,000 Navarro County Memorial Hospital Monday at 2 p. m.

Every resident of Navarro county is invited to attend this historic ceremony, Joe D. Huffstutler, county judge, who will preside at the meeting, stated Thursday morning.

A short program is being arranged. The hospital, a 100-bed institution, dedicated to the Navarro county heroes of all wars, will replace the present P. and S. Hospital, owned by the county since its opening in 1916.

Groups expected to be present include the commissioners court, hospital board, county hospital advisory board, American Legion posts, women's clubs, service clubs, state, federal and local officials, Navarro County Medical Society, IOOF and State Home officials and the public in general.

"We do not plan a long program, but will have one that will reflect the importance of this event in the history of our county, and will hear persons who have had a prominent part in making this dream of a great hospital a reality," Judge Huffstutler added.

The initial contract for the building, heating, plumbing and electrical decisions, exceeding $1,000,000, were awarded Monday and the general contractors, Campbell and Kay, have already moved machinery and preliminary materials to the site, it was stated Thursday.

Adjournment Fever Grows In Senate With Republicans Supplying 'I's'

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(AP)—Adjournment fever appears to be running high in the senate several weeks early.

Sideline observers wondered whether it was the real thing or more of a contest between Democratic and Republican leaders.

Democratic leader Lucas, of Illinois, has been taking daily opportunities to predict that congress can complete action on a big jam of must legislation and get away by July 31.

Wednesday two senate Republican leaders, Wherry of Nebraska and Taft of Ohio, got into the act by agreeing with Lucas after carefully inserting some "I's."

Wherry, the Republican floor leader, said Lucas had handed him a list of more than 20 bills that should be passed before congress goes to a great holiday.

If Lucas would trim his list in half, Wherry opined that everything could go home about August 5.

A few hours later the senate Republican policy committee held a long closed-door strategy session. Emerging from this with a broad smile, Chairman Taft said it "is possible for congress to adjourn August 1 if..."

And Taft then announced that Republicans would insist on a senate vote on two things:

1. Reduction or elimination of the federal excise taxes, first imposed by the war on a long list of items ranging from jewelry and furs to passenger transportation and cosmetics.
2. A resolution on President Truman's power to cut import duties under the trade agreements program.

The Republicans designated Wherry to consult with Lucas upon a program looking toward adjournment.

Taft said that if Lucas would agree "to a reasonable program" he was certain congress would be through between June 29 and Aug. 5.

Most observers believed that Lucas consulted President Truman and other party leaders before he began his constant push for adjournment at the end of July.

The senate has been on a long of an increase in law-making speed

Ground-Breaking For Hospital Is Scheduled Monday

Ground-breaking ceremonies for the new $1,650,000 Navarro County Memorial Hospital will be held on the site in Northwest Corsicana Monday, June 19, at 2 p. m.

This announcement was made at the Monday afternoon session of the commissioners court after three large contracts were awarded, the citizens subscription fund turned over to the county, and a spokesman for Campbell and Kay had said they would start preliminary excavations within a few days.

The three bids awarded totaled $1,019,914.75. Three other bids—Westinghouse for elevators whose bond and contract is to be signed in New York, kitchen and laundry bids, will be signed later during the month.

Those bids announced Monday were Campbell and Kay, Tyler, general contract, $738,470; Coker Electric Co., Tyler, $70,885.75; and Beal's Heating and Plumbing, Inc., Fort Worth, heating, plumbing, air conditioning, and ventilation, $310,844.

The motion for Campbell and Kay contract award was made by Commissioner Joe George, seconded by Commissioner Fred Copeland. The motions for Coker and Beal were made by Copeland, seconded by George. All voted aye on the motions.

A previous motion passed authorized Joe D. Statlander, county judge, to sign the contracts, bonds and other necessary papers for the county.

H. R. Stroube, chairman of the Navarro County Citizens Contribution fund, delivered $285,000 in bonds, cash and receipts to the county and was given a receipt signed by the county judge and commissioners.

The funds included receipts for $125,000 in 1-1/4 U. S. Treasury Notes from the State National Bank; $101,000 of 1-1/4 Treasury Notes from the First National Bank; a check for $14,700 from the First National Bank; a check for $12,300 from the State National Bank; and receipts for $15,990.55, for $15,990.55.

The above does not include approximately $20,000 expended by the committee for the 29-acre site—$16,000—and expenses of the bond campaign, printing of bonds, fences, attorneys fees.

A number of state, federal and local figures are expected to participate in the ground-breaking ceremonies for the memorial to the war heroes of Navarro county.

This institution, when completed, will replace the P. and S. Hospital, owned and operated by Navarro county since 1915.

Details of the ceremonies will be announced later in the week.

PIGEON TABLE TENNIS—These pigeons are playing table tennis at Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass., during an experiment by Dr. B. F. Skinner, professor of psychology. A ball placed in the middle is allowed to roll toward one of the players. He bats it with his beak and his opponent tries to bat it back. When one player misses the ball, it rolls into the trough in front of him. This opens the feeding station in front of his opponent. Dr. Skinner is using the pigeons to discover new methods for studying human behavior. Other things that the pigeons are handy at are playing tunes on a piano, push buttons to get food, tell time and understanding changing colors—like traffic lights. (AP Wirephoto).

Harvard-Educated Pigeons Can Play Table Tennis, Pick Out Piano Tunes

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 15—Smart birds these Harvard-educated pigeons.

They're able to play a tune on a piano, play table tennis, tell time, push pushbuttons and understand changing colors—like traffic lights.

The piano players can rattle off such simple tunes as "Over the Fence Is Out, Boys" and "Take Me Out to the Ball Game."

And all the birds are not in the heads of the fancy homing varieties. The common park pigeon is just as smart.

B. F. Skinner, professor of psychology at Harvard, has drawn these conclusions after a series of experiments.

The tests are designed to determine whether a child can be trained more effectively by encouraging good behavior or punishing bad actions.

How do you do it with pigeons? The professor explains that pigeons are ideal subjects because they have a reaction time comparable to humans.

They are paid off with food if their responses to various tests bring the desired results.

Dr. Skinner gets the piano players to drum up a tune by rewarding them if they peck the keys on a seven key board in certain sequences.

The modified table tennis—without nets—is played on a two-foot square table.

One pigeon, using his beak, tries to bat the ball past his opponent.

Alleged Prince Is Held By FBI

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15—(AP)—FBI agents have questioned a blond 27-year-old man who claims to be the son of Germany's last Kaiser.

They became interested because the car he is suspected of stealing crossed state lines—from New Orleans to San Francisco.

Admitted Driving Car

The jailed man, who identified himself as Otto Wilhelm Von Hohenzollern, readily admits driving the car from New Orleans but said it was just one of several cars belonging to members of the family into which he had married. He called the charge "ridiculous."

Tuesday the San Francisco police department said this telegram had arrived from New Orleans detectives:

"Hold suspect and Buick. Buick property of Arlette Kirk Treford stolen this city April 16. Suspect is called Prince Otto, alias Rocco Davis Tancours, wanted by FBI, also U. S. Immigration Service."

Mrs. Treford, of Houston, Texas, and New Orleans, is the sister of Virginia Kirk, 36, of New Orleans, who last October was married to the pretender to the defunct German throne. She has instituted arrest proceedings.

Held Without Bail

Informed of the "phony prince" reference in the telegram, the suspect remarked:

"All nonsense. My mother-in-law has my birth certificate showing that I am the son of the late Kaiser."

He is booked on suspicion of car theft and also on a technical holding charge which precludes bail. He said he came here to enter the restaurant business.

Cotton Millers Defeated Mexia Here Sunday 4-3

The Corsicana Cotton Mill downed the Mexia Gushers, 4-3 Sunday in Corsicana, to leave only two undefeated teams in the Navarro-Limestone semi-pro baseball league.

The other unbeaten team is Emhouse, which hopped on hapless Rice Sunday, 18-2.

The Mexia Cats blasted 23 hits off Pursley to down the West Navarro county team, 18-14 in a wild-scoring spree. Corsicana's Merchants were forced to forfeit to Richland when most of its team failed to show up for the game.

R. M. Drain whiffed 21 Rice batters and yielded only 5 hits as Emhouse turned in its powerhouse performance.

Bobby Lawrence hurled for the Millers, who lagged behind the Gushers in almost every department except scoring. Frank Roman hurled for the Mexia crew.

HUGHES TO BUILD
HOUSTON, June 15—(AP)—Hughes Tool Company officials today announced plans to build a $2,000,000 engineering laboratory at the Houston plant.

Improvements Due At Magnolia Tank Farm Here

Improvements at the Magnolia Petroleum Company tank farm in South Corsicana for the summer include the installation of three floating roofs on 80,000-barrel tanks and the replacement of two old reservoirs with big tanks, it was learned Tuesday.

The floating roofs will replace cone roofs in use for more than a half century. The improved coverings stay at the level of the oil, with rain or moisture running to the center and then being piped off. This method is a decided safety improvement as it removes the area formerly in which gases accumulated—a hazard for fire or explosions. Several of the tanks in the farm had previously been equipped with the floating roofs.

The replacements contemplated during the summer will be one 120,000-barrel and an 80,000-barrel units. These two huge units will replace a couple of 35,000-barrel tanks erected in the local farm.

Emhouse Crew To Get Stiff Test Sunday Vs. Mexia

The Emhouse baseball team, now tied with the Corsicana Cotton Mill for the top spot in the Navarro-Limestone semi-pro baseball league, gets a tough test Sunday.

That crew goes to Mexia for a clash with the Mexia Gushers, who are now riding firmly behind the leaders. It stands to be one of the most important games of the week-end because of the standings of the teams involved.

The other undefeated crew, Corsicana Cotton Mill, is host Sunday to Richland, which won its first game of the season last week on a forfeit from the Corsicana Merchants.

Other games find Rice journeying to Mexia for a battle with the Cats, and Pursley battling the Corsicana Merchants for the cellar spot in the league.

Farmers Continue Army Worm Fight

BEDFORD, Pa., June 15—(AP)—Farmers in Pennsylvania's Bedford County tightened their ranks today to battle an invading army—an army of caterpillars.

Thousands of the pests—identified by County Farm Agent L. R. Mollenauer as army worms—have been moving across a Bedford farm area leaving devastation in their wake.

Mollenauer said that several different types of insect sprays were being tried in an effort to halt the crop destruction. Corn in some fields was cut off at ground level. Hundreds of the caterpillars were ground to death by cars as they crossed highways.

DILLIES FOR DADS

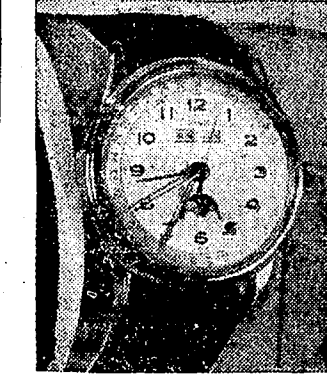

(AP Newsfeatures)

Though he may snort and protest that it's all a lot of nonsense, every Dad is secretly pleased to be king of the roost on Father's Day. He's pleased also with the gifts that he wouldn't buy for himself — especially if the family spends a little thought and effort on their selection.

This year the shops offer an abundant supply of the things that fathers will like and use. The new flannel-type nylon sports shirts, that look like wool but can be tossed in with the family wash, are sure-fire hits. A good watch is something every man treasures. A wind-proof lighter, a new golf bag or a light-weight nylon robe are all good bets.

FOR THE OUTDOORS GUY . . . Flannel-type spun nylon sports shirt that saves cleaning bills, is easy to wash, needs no ironing. Top choice for Father's Day.

FOR ANY DAD . . . New self-winding shock-proof Swiss calendar watch, tells time, date and moon phase.

FOR THE SMOKER . . . Flameless lighter that always works, comes with 3 months supply of fluid.

FOR A TRAVELING MAN . . . Light-weight spun nylon robe is easy to pack, easy to wash, needs no ironing.

FOR THE GOLFER . . . New knee-action golf bag with tripod support which works automatically as bag is removed from shoulder, retracts as bag is lifted. With ball pocket, club divider, scuff-proof bottom.

Good Farming Conditions Cited In USDA Report

AUSTIN, June 15.—(AP)—Tractors moved from early until late in fields over all parts of Texas as clear weather and high temperatures dried excess moisture the past week, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported today.

Wheat harvest was active in North Central and Northwest counties although wet soils caused some delay nearly in the week. The USDA report covered the week ending June 12.

Wheat yields were better than had been expected in many fields. Limited acreages remaining in the high plains area were nearing maturity and combines worked in a few fields during the week.

Corn made good growth, with the warm, open weather improving prospects, particularly in East Texas. Combining sorghums started in the lower valley; crops were nearing maturity in the coast bend.

Heavy fruiting of cotton was reported in southern areas, and plant growth was speeded by favorable weather throughout most of the state.

A few solid carlots of tomatoes moved from the lower valley and movement started from a number of East Texas points. Harvest of potatoes was active in Central and East Texas points but the quality was poor because of wet fields.

Harvest of sweet corn started in Central Texas and was getting underway this week in some eastern counties.

Good to very good feed was supplied by ranges and pastures in practically all areas, and all classes of livestock were making good gains.

Jap Police Are Ready To Deal With Leftists

TOKYO, June 15.—(AP)—Police are prepared to deal with a Leftist demonstration during the visit of American Defense Secretary Johnson and Gen. Omar Bradley next week.

Cabinet Secretary Katsuo Okazaki said plans for coping with a demonstration have been made by police. There have been widespread rumors students and Leftists would stage a demonstration during the visit of the American leaders.

Johnson is expected to discuss with Gen. MacArthur possible future Japanese military bases.

For the second straight day Jiji Shimpo first large Japanese newspaper to support granting of the bases, urged Japanese to get behind the move as a means of insuring Japan against attack.

Rubber, Steel Scrap Among Few Items Showing Drops In Recent Dealings

BY SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK, June 15.—(AP)—A few of the high fliers in the current price spiral are being taken down a peg.

Rubber and steel scrap, which climbed sensationally in recent months to new all-time highs, have been falling this week. They stand out against the long list of other commodities which are still climbing or holding their high points.

A handful of other commodities have been coming down, too, and today makers of some of finished products, whose raw material costs have been rising, see little chance as yet of staying out of the inflation parade.

Rises Not Justified. Trade sources say that rubber and steel scrap prices went higher than was justified by any but special and temporary conditions—and measures were taken to end these conditions.

For example, natural rubber prices dropped six cents a pound at Singapore in the first two days of this week. Trade sources think it's because Chinese speculators have changed their minds. They had been holding rubber to force the price up.

Steel scrap also went to a record high of $46 a ton at Pittsburgh. But this week $3 was shaved off the price. Trade sources give several reasons. The high price attracted more scrap into the market. Mills refused to buy at the record price. Some announced plans to import scrap from Europe. And the price of scrap came down.

Sugar Hike Averted. A few other commodities have suffered price drops recently, and some that tried for higher prices failed to make it stick. Sugar refiners in the East announced they were hiking the price of refined sugar, but large consumers stayed out of the market and the announced price increases were withdrawn before their effective date.

Diapatches from Maine say that a good run of fish there has brought the price of sardines down slightly.

The makers of men's hose, plagued by the rise in the cost of cotton yarn, assure us today that they hope to hold sock prices where they are. They say most producers already have ordered enough yarn for the present anyway.

But these little gleams of price relief flicker against generally rising prices. The bureau of labor statistics, which bases its general index of basic commodities on the August, 1939, level, says today that the index advanced during last week from 266.6 to 269.

EUROPEAN ECONOMIC POOL

Six nations of Europe have agreed in principle to the French proposal for a pool of their steel and coal industries. Thus the creation of this great economic pool seems to be a certainty if the detailed plan can be worked out by the six, and if no block is thrown in the way by an outside power.

A block from outside might come from two sources. One is Russia, since any development which strengthens the anti-Communists nations of Europe is inimical to the present policies and purposes of the Russian government. It is questionable whether Russia can do anything to prevent accomplishment of this pool, however. The other possible blocker is Great Britain. The proposed industrial pool would become a powerful competitor for British coal and steel. Moreover it might very well be the foundation for political union of the six and other nations, a political union which could have great strength and power. Great Britain has always aimed to forestall the unification of Europe, to prevent the rise of any single political power capable of dominating the Continent. Britain faces the decision whether to try to block this union or to join it. The latter course would involve a conclusion that a new Europe is about to be born, and that British policies must be revised accordingly. It is the high hope of Americans that there is to be a new Europe. For we can see little prospect of enduring peace unless there is a fundamental change in the relations of the little group of nations, which has bred two great wars.

HOW TO CUT TAXES

The real way to achieve federal economy has been found by a history student. He came across a provision in constitution of the Confederate States which might profitably have been included in the fundamental law of the nation. This forbade Congress to make any appropriations not called for in the presidential budget, unless so voting by a two-thirds majority. This provision recognized that a national budget is primarily executive business, not legislative. The traditional soundness of the British financial structure, until the war years, is largely due to observance of this principle.

In practice, such a provision would reduce the number of costly local improvements which strengthen a congressman's chances of re-election but are of no particular importance outside of his district. The requirement of a two-thirds vote would put most of them out of the running.

When constitutional amendments are next considered, it might not be a bad idea to examine the fundamental law of the Confederacy.

THE COAL MARKET

The Bureau of Labor Statistics recently surveyed the coal situation and reported that more layoffs and shortened work weeks can be expected by coal miners. They are capable of producing, in only 200 working days a year, about 25 per cent more coal than the nation now uses. The report said sadly that there is an unsolved problem or readjusting the industry to its restricted market.

It must be granted that the problem will not be solved easily, but outside experts could make a couple of quick suggestions. The first thing the coal industry ought to do is to stop restricting its own market, stop creating artificial shortages of coal. These shortages do not increase the net demand for coal, although they are effective in increasing the price; actually they decrease future demand and cause immediate losses of sales while coal is available. A second suggestion is that the coal industry ought to devote more time to honest competition with other fuel on a sound basis of usefulness, economy and convenience, and give less time to railing against oil and gas and trying to cut off imports of foreign oil.

American consumers are human. They will use the fuel which gives them the most attractive combination of handy use, favorable cost and reliability. If the coal industry will compete on that basis, there is no reason why it cannot hold a substantial share of the American fuel market for many years to come.

NO MORE CAVALRY

Goodbye, Cavalry! Another Army reorganization plan seems to be on the way, having been approved by the senate Armed Services Committee. This would abolish both the Cavalry and the Coast Artillery.

Some of the most romantic soldiers in American history were cavalymen. Jeb Stuart and Nathan Bedford Forrest are unforgettable names, and on the Union side there was the storied figure of Phillip H. Sheridan. His ride from Winchester, twenty miles away, to reform his broken lines and win the last battle of Cedar Creek was truly a cavalryman's exploit. Gen. John J. Pershing, who impressed the soldiers of World War I by his grimness, was an old cavalryman, and could always be moved by praise of his horse.

Now these days are over. The horse and army mule have been succeeded by the tank and the jeep. They may be more effective than their predecessors, but will never inspire the affection that went out to the cavalryman's four-legged second self.

PORTUGUESE AWAKENING

Portugal, which has not kept abreast of new ideas, now recognizes that Asia is on the march. To ward off worse things, the Portuguese have arranged to grant financial and governmental home rule to the inhabitants of their territories in India. These diminutive regions extend to not much more than 1,500 square miles, with 600,000 inhabitants. They are scattered reminders that the sixteenth century Portuguese power spread over much of India, Ceylon and part of the Malay peninsula, and even extended to China. The port of Macao is the sole Chinese survivor of Portugal's former great days.

Large or small, these souvenirs of what was once a great domain would soon be lost to the Portuguese if they did not see the storm coming and introduce self government. Now that this has been done, the Portuguese flag may be enabled to wave in Asia a little longer.

FORTUNES OF BAGHDAD

Winnipeg was not the only large city to be imperiled this spring by floods. Baghdad, the scene of many stories in the Arabian Nights, was placed in danger from the swollen Tigris river. Engineers had to blast the dikes to allow the waters to dissipate.

In a few years Baghdad will be celebrating its 1200th birthday. Founded in 762, it was long the seat of the Mohammedan caliphate, the great empire which at one time threatened to conquer all Europe, and was a constant peril to the Mediterranean.

YOU'D THINK HE'D TAKE THE HINT

mean countries until 1258 the caliphate and Baghdad fell to the Mongols. Slaughterers in the tradition of Hitler and Stalin, the Mongols are said to have killed 800,000 residents. They also destroyed the irrigation canals on which the country's prosperity depended, one of the most lasting pieces of destruction on record.

Baghdad is now a sprawling dirty city which is beginning to come back. Its population is about 150,000 persons, who must be hardened indeed, for they live in one of the hottest climates in the world. Still, from the times of ancient Babylon down, great capitals have always been located on the Tigris river or its adjoining stream, the Euphrates. Perhaps Baghdad may yet see better days.

RESTORING THE PAST

If you can't have an original, a copy will often have to serve, and sometimes does very well. This reasoning is back of the project to rebuild Fort Ligonier, sponsored by the Fort Ligonier Memorial Foundation. This was a relic of French and Indian War days. On the site of Pittsburgh was Fort Duquesne, a French stronghold. This the British finally took, renaming it Fort Pitt. To capture it, they built in 1758 a fort for rest and provisioning, to the southeast of Fort Duquesne. This was named Fort Ligonier, in honor of Sir John Ligonier, the British commander. It justified its building by resisting attack made against it by the Indians.

Now the project is to rebuild the old fort as close as possible. Logs will be sold to defray the cost of restoration, expected to reach $100,000. The site is known, and the lines of the inner fort have been discovered. With this information it is hoped to attain a successful copy of the original structure.

This war, in which the building of Fort Ligonier was a notable step, decided that North America should be British and not French. It also gave training in wilderness fighting to a future general named George Washington.

DEPOSED HERO

Stalin may have to discredit a great national hero. A Georgian, Stalin must have been brought up to revere Schamyl, who in the middle of the nineteenth century fought for thirty years to free his country from Russian rule. Finally captured, he received much milder treatment than any rebel against Russian authority today. He was assigned to a residence in the central part of Russia, and allowed some liberty of movement, even to go on a pilgrimage to Mecca in Arabia, where he died.

Schamyl has arisen to plague Stalin. The national Prize Committee for Literature and Art recently gave an award to a history of thought in the present Soviet satellite state of Azerbaijan. This borders on Iran, and was the scene of Schamyl's chief struggles. The award evoked protests, on the ground that Schamyl, lauded by the history, was not a praiseworthy character, but had collaborated with the Turks and British to annex part of the Georgian domain. The committee, yielding to these objections, has now asked the Council of Ministers to cancel the award.

Nobody, except Lenin himself, did more to advance the Communist triumph in Russia than Leon Trotsky. After Trotsky fell out with Stalin, he was not merely murdered, but his achievements were falsified in the history textbooks in order to reduce his historic stature. If this could happen to a national hero like Trotsky, the discrediting of Schamyl is not surprising. Will Stalin like the blackening of his boyhood ideal?

THE WORD FROM BIFFLE

Doubtless it will be many years before public opinion samplers have heard the last of the 1948 election. One who will do his bit this year to prolong their agony is Leslie L. Biffle, secretary of the Senate. Biffle was the man who donned overalls and toured the country in a battered farm truck in the summer of 1948 to test President Truman's chances for re-election. His going was considered something of a jest and nobody paid much attention to his report, nobody, that is, except the President and a very few of his intimates. His report, it is recalled, was accurate, in definite contrast to those of the professional pollsters.

Biffle will try it again this year, with the aim of predicting whether the administration will gain or lose support in the congressional elections this fall. His method is to lose himself among the people, to attract no notice to himself and to listen. It's a pretty good way to learn a lot of things.

Whether he can repeat his 1948 performance by making another accurate prediction remains to be seen. But this much is certain: No one will laugh at his plan, and his report will command a more respectful hearing than it did in 1948.

Keeping up with the Joneses is apt to let the budget down.

Clocks are wonderful things, but they seem always to go too slow or too fast.

AMERASIA

CRITICS have charged the justice department with laxity in its handling of the six persons arrested after the papers were seized in the magazine's office.

Amerasia's editor, Philip Jaffe, pleaded guilty to possessing secret government documents and was fined $2,500. Emanuel S. Larson, specialist in the China division of the state department, was fined $500. The case against the four others was dropped.

Bops and Belches Comedy Keynotes For Spike Jones

By HUBBARD KEAVY
(For Vacationing Bob Thomas)
HOLLYWOOD, June 15.—(AP)—If Spike Jones is right, the average American wants to see the first fiddler fall into the bass drum. And the harpist bopped with a bat during her most serious moment. And the tenor the victim of a belch.

The sum of 25,000 a week, most weeks, is what Spike Jones of the musical nonsense circuit is paid for entertaining Americans, so he probably is right.

Why Be Subtle, the basis of the comedy in his musical depreciation review is, he says, what you would like to see happen. The state of American humor then is that the bop and the belch are the keystones of laughter. Why try to be subtle when being otherwise pays so handsomely?

A very funny—or, at any rate, most laughable to those attending the show—here now—sequence in the Jones show is when a supposed queen for a day contestant comes to the microphone. After nervousness causes her to laugh so hard that she jiggles. Are the folks in the audience amused because her nervousness might be their nervousness? Or they laughing because she obviously didn't wear her uplift and her hold-in?

I don't know the answers. I'm just amazed that this could be funny.

Spike Often Pondered
Spike, who has made the washboard, the cowbell and the revolver instruments in his band, spends a great deal of his time wondering what will make people laugh. He wondered for weeks about the nervous contestant, having it in mind as a build-up for a musical number. When the gal sails into "Glow Worm" the stars and almost all the people on it fall apart. "Everytime you hear 'Glow Worm' says Spike, 'you want something—anything—to happen.'"

TAX BILL

rate between $25,000 and $50,000 and means that only corporations with net income over $120,000 would have any increased tax liability if the 38 per cent rate is increased.

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder has said that only about 10 per cent of all corporations—the big ones—would feel any tax increase under such an arrangement.

However, there still is some doubt that the corporation boost can pass the senate if it gets through the house.

A three-point corporation hike came into focus after the ways and means committee rejected the president's proposal for (a) a $400,000,000 increase in estate and big gift taxes and (b) almost $200,000,000 additional taxes on oil and gas producers by decreasing their depletion allowances.

By plugging various loopholes and by a 10 per cent withholding tax on corporation dividends, the committee says it has found a way to pick up about half the $1,100,000,000 extra revenue needed to offset the excise cut.

A $500,000,000 corporate tax boost would just about round out the size of the excise cut—which, incidentally is about twice the $1,100,000,000 limit Truman suggested.

So, it looks now—unless some Democratic plans go wrong—as though the house will pass the tax bill, toss it over to the senate—and take a July 4 holiday. Then, if the senate acts swiftly, the excise cuts may become effective Sept. 1.

Efforts to cultivate truffles domestically have been successful in the past century, according to the National Geographic Society.

APPLE CHEESE... Father's Day treat.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Give Pop the kind of food he really likes on Father's Day. There's nothing more popular with most men than apple pie for dessert, but if you top it with that glamor dairy food—vanilla ice cream—it will be doubly Dad's dish. Use some of the good green summer apples for the filling that follows, and sweeten them with brown sugar for a different touch. Scent them with cinnamon.

Another twist to apple pie that

Couple Facing 20-Year Term For Starving Child

NEW YORK, June 15.—(AP)—Guy and Mary Scielzo, a young Manhattan couple, today faced the prospect of up to 20 years in prison for starving to death their three-year-old son, Guy, Jr.

The 30-year-old father was convicted of first degree manslaughter Tuesday by a jury that deliberated 90 minutes.

His wife, also 30, earlier had pleaded guilty to the same charge. Little Guy, who weighed only 14 pounds—21 pounds underweight—died at a hospital last November after he was found in a dark, lice-infested back room by authorities.

His sister, Vincenza, 4, was also starved, but recovered.

Scielzo drew another conviction with a possible three-year sentence for her neglect.

The couple had two other children, plump and happy. No full explanation ever was made why the children were treated so differently.

Mrs. Scielzo said only that Guy "wouldn't eat." Her husband said he was busy earning a living and assumed she was looking after the children. Sentencing was set for July 12.

Miss Loretta Gaillard, sanitation technician, today said outdoor toilets in the city are being sprayed with DDT. She said parts of the city had been completed and that the entire city should be finished next week.

Prices Of Meats Finding Levels

By The Associated Press.

Retail meat prices leveled off generally this week at about the levels of last week, and, after pushing upward for nearly two months.

Poultry and dairy products also were mostly unchanged. Top grade eggs continued their slow upturn in many markets, with the increases averaging about two cents a dozen.

Fewer produce price changes were reported than in recent weeks. Priced lower as supplies increased were snap beans, lima beans, broccoli, cucumbers, peaches and strawberries.

Mexico Bound Youth Makes Short Journey

A 15-year-old Embouse boy decided to run away from home Wednesday night, and go to New Mexico.

He took a white horse and a brown yearling colt.

The father advised Sheriff David Castles Thursday morning and a radio dispatch advised officers throughout Texas to pick up the lad.

A few minutes after the broadcast, the boy was located in Blooming Grove. He had ridden about 17 miles on his pious long journey.

RAIL BOARD

Sor Gordon S. Watkins of the University of California.

The major demands of the largest group of employees involved in the case—the approximately 125,000 trainmen and conductors—were denied.

The unions had asked two main adjustments for these employees: (1) a graduated pay scale based on the weight of locomotives, similar to the pay scales now given to locomotive engineers and firemen; (2) a 15-mile, five-hour basic day in passenger service to replace the present 150-mile, 7-1/2 hour basic day.

In a separate case, the same board recommended a 40-hour week for approximately 4,000 railroad yard masters on 66 major railroads represented by still another union, the Railroad Yard Masters of North America.

The board also proposed an 18-cent an hour pay increase for the yardmasters but declined to recommend "full maintenance of take-home pay."

The board denied union demand for time and one-half premium pay for work on Sundays and holidays in yard service, but recommended that so far as practicable, yard service workers be given Saturdays and Sundays off.

The board also rejected a proposal for payment of overtime after eight hours a day, recommending that overtime rates apply after 40 hours of work in a week.

The board did not go into details on how the unions and carriers should work out its recommendations but commented that both sides seemed "close to an agreement in the matter."

recently by the usually slow-moving senate.

It agreed to reach a final vote next Tuesday on the social security expansion measure. A lack of speeches has permitted early recesses every day this week. That has not happened since the start of this session.

Both Democrats and Republicans agree that before they quit there must be final action on these matters.

The social security bill, an extension of the peacetime draft act which expires June 24; billions of dollars in appropriations, most of which already have cleared the house; an authorization and later actual funds to carry out the program for helping anti-Communist work on Sundays and holidays; and a federal highway aid measure.

The biggest question surrounds the tax revision measure on which the house ways and means committee has been working for months. Unless this reaches the senate soon, leaders there say they must choose between no general tax bill or working well into August.

Taxes Increase On Farms, Ranches While Incomes Decline, Report Shows

COLLEGE STATION, June 15.—(UP)—Taxes on Texas farms and ranches are going up, while farm income declines.

The trends were reported by two Texas A. and M. professors, Robert G. Cherry and L. P. Gabbard. They are assistant professors and head, respectively, of A. and M.'s department of agricultural economics and sociology.

Such taxes averaged 25.7 cents an acre in 1949, a 15 percent increase over 22.4 cents in 1948, they said.

Taxes per acre have advanced for three successive years, indicating a distinct upward trend and marking an end to a long period of stabilized levies. For the 11 year period, 1938-48, taxes varied only slightly from an average of 18 cents per acre. The typical farm or ranch tax bill in 1949 was 40 per cent above that level.

Few Local Hikes.

Most of the rise in 1949 was accounted for by increases in state and school district taxes. County and special district levies were up only slightly.

Though state taxes are a relatively small proportion of total farm and ranch real estate levies, an advance in the state rate of 72 cents, from 42 cents the previous year, was the most significant item in the 1949 tax increase.

Gilmer-Alkin school legislation was a factor in higher school taxes. A considerable number of farms and ranches formerly were in "dormant" common school districts with little or no taxes. During 1949 these school units were consolidated with active districts, resulting in higher levies.

Increases in individual counties and type-of-farming areas varied widely. Of 197 counties in

Youths Held On Robbery Charge

FORT WORTH, June 15.—(UP)—Two youths broke into a Worth Food Market and fled with $2,780 in cash and checks at 1 a. m., today and were arrested seven minutes later.

Admitting the burglary to a Star-Telegram reporter and detectives, they identified themselves as Cara Louis Young, Jr., 19, and James Adrian Forgy, 17.

They were arrested a mile away after an unidentified resident near the store phoned police that two burglars wearing white shirts and cowboy boots were leaving the food market.

Most of the money was recovered.

to land, then was heard from no more.

Bad weather conditions prevailed on both occasions in this area of sudden, strong storms.

Tugs of the British-owned Bahrain Petroleum Co. and local launches today were scouring the crash area for more survivors.

A U. S. Air Force rescue plane also aided in the search.

The plane was lying in about 30 feet of water. Searchers believed the bodies of most of the missing still were trapped inside it.

Early today a crane barge was moored over the wreckage in an effort to lift it from the water intact.

Last night's disaster brought to more than 100 the number of persons dead or missing in French air crashes in two days.

Of these, 46 died in the first crash off Bahrain Tuesday. At least 39 are dead or missing from Wednesday night's crash.

Another 16 are missing from a French military plane which disappeared while on flight between two cities in Madagascar. Three more persons were killed Wednesday in the crash of a private plane near Constantine, North Africa.

but said he had always voted for state Democratic candidates.

McDonald said he had supported presidential candidates on the basis of his opinion of how good their farm programs were for the farmers. He warned the committee that Democratic voters have apparently favored his stand, and predicted he would be the next commissioner of agriculture.

McDonald also warned the committee that he would sue, anticipated he would win in court, and benefit from the publicity.

The committee opted another resolution, in case it lost in court, asking the legislature to tighten up the party loyalty statutes.

McDonald named John C. Calhoun of Corsicana, chairman of the executive committee, all the members of the committee, and all county chairmen as respondents in his suit.

TEXAS TODAY

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff

Secretary of State Dean Acheson, the picture of a diplomat from head to toe was amiable and approachable during his visit to Texas.

He responded easily to the warm hospitality of the Lone Star State and apparently had a good time.

Acheson was first off the plane that brought his party from Washington to Dallas. A matter of a minute ran through the crowd of 150 that waited at the airport as he emerged from the ship, smiled, and waved. First to greet him was Bill Kittery, who long has been a potent operator in the Democratic party in Texas.

The secretary of state shook hands all around and then posed cheerfully for pictures with a number of Texas dignitaries. Then a press agent for Braniff Airways came up, toting a camera, and wanted to know if Acheson would pose with a couple of Braniff hostesses. Acheson had not come to Texas in a Braniff plane but he HAD used a Braniff ramp in leaving the plane. He posed for two pictures with the hostesses.

Mrs. Acheson immediately left the airport for the home of her cousin, Mrs. Wayland Sanford of Dallas, and Acheson remarked: "The first thing I do when I come to Texas is lose my wife. Wayland Sanford is a staunch Republican."

On the way to a waiting automobile, Acheson signed an autograph for Rita Ballas, 11, and then climbed into the back seat of a car driven by Sen. Tom Connally and Humphrey Lee, president of the Southern Methodist University. The back seat was narrow and Connally and Lee were in the front. "Sort of a tight fit, isn't it?" a reporter said.

"No, we're all small fellows," the secretary of state replied. Just then a little six-year-old girl reached up and plucked at Acheson's elbow. He looked down and smiled. "Hello, there, my dear," said he.

The audience at Acheson's formal address Tuesday night was treated to what one Southern Methodist University professor called "the Falls County type Gorton style of oratory." First the old Southern brand of oratory was dispensed by Senator Connally in his Falls County, Texas, accent. Then the address of the acceptance was given by Acheson. A carefully modulated voice with Harvard-Yale accent to match.

Connally "Fall Guy" Connally was the "fall guy" for radio that night, an example of the way speeches are aimed for radio audiences. He was severely criticized in the WAVS auditorium, but the senator was ordered to kill time until 8:30 p. m. when Acheson's speech was scheduled for radio broadcast.

The veteran senator spoke 27 minutes in introducing Acheson and a portion of the audience finally began interrupting him liberally with applause that was not of the congressional type. "The trouble was, nobody told the big, perspiring audience that Connally was 'killing time'." It thought he was just delivering an address of acceptance in a folksy style. But he was holding his watch in his hand behind the row of mikes. His voice boomed and thundered through the auditorium. His sentences rolled and echoed and some of them didn't quite mesh as Senator Tom told of the menace "from the East" and "the Steppes."

Then the scale of praise for Secretary Acheson, and finally, with a mention of Acheson's name, the clapping started. The senator continued on for a few minutes, discussing these issues all evening, said he, and more applause — on and on like a political ovation.

If someone had only said "The distinguished senator is killing time for radio," please help us out. . . undoubtedly there would have been not only cheers and sincere applause but great sympathy for the valiant orator of thousands of battles on the senate floor. As it was, the audience was impatient, hot, and perhaps a little discourteous.

"GOLDIE" DOESN'T KNOW THERE IS A STRIKE ON—Rep. Edwin Hall (R-N.Y.), his hand still on the trotter, and his son, Richard, 10, toast each other with milk "warm from Goldie," their placid Jersey cow. The scene is the Hall's four-acre farm in Montgomery county, Maryland, six miles from Washington, where nine big dairies are shut down in a wage dispute. The congressman, from Binghamton, N. Y., has five other children to be happy about "Goldie," who gives 20 quarts daily. (AP Wirephoto).

THE NATION TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—Charles L. Watkins is a thin, mild man who holds a job in which he is supposed to have the impartiality of Solomon.

He must be doing all right because he's had his job a long time in a place where tempers are short and suspicions sharp.

Watkins, who is 70, is the senate parliamentarian. In fact, he's the only full-time parliamentarian the senate ever has had.

In this job he's supposed to walk down the middle, looking neither at the Democrats nor Republicans, while unscrambling the senators from their own red tape, of which there is plenty.

Until 1933 the senate had 44 rules. In that year, in what must have been an economy wave, the senate reduced its rules from 44 to 40.

It still has the same 40 and it does its business according to those rules.

Any time a senator acts contrary to what another senator thinks one of the 40 rules means, his hand is called.

And, since Democrats and Republicans are always pulling the rules in opposite directions, there's work for Watkins.

In short, he's supposed to help straighten them out on what the rules mean. At this point maybe you're thinking, "Why do they need Watkins?"

Well, if there are only 40 rules, don't all the senators know them all by heart? Why do they need Watkins?

At the first place, the 40 rules cover about 60 pages in a booklet called the "Senate Manual."

It's safe to say no senator knows the rules by heart. Not even Watkins, who knows them inside out, can recite them word for word.

Further, there's a little thing, but a very important one, called "precedents" which concerns what previous senates did about a certain rule.

Although all 40 rules have remained in force, down through the years the various senates have modified most of them by deciding a rule really means this or really meant that.

So, when the present senate gets into a dispute about a rule, if it knows the precedents on that rule it can follow them. Or it can shoot off in another direction, setting a new precedent.

Maybe here you say: "But can't the senators keep a copy of the precedents?"

The trouble is: Those precedents never have been gathered together except in Watkins' head and his own typewritten notes.

He has gone back to 1883 in the Congressional record—the Daily Journal of the senate's doing—and read every page of every day that time.

He had to do it that way because every dispute about a rule was buried between tons of oratory, copies of bills, and the other stuff that gets buried in the Journal.

Watkins took full notes on every dispute, and now has 10 fat volumes of them in his office. Even so, his records go only from 1883 to 1929. He hopes to bring the precedents up to date.

Then, he expects the senate will have this whole history of precedents printed by the government printer for the use of future senates.

Watkins, born in Arkansas, got his first senate job as a clerk on June 15, 1915. At that time the assistant secretary of the senate was doubling as parliamentarian. For eight years Watkins sat beside him, listening to him discourse on rules.

Then in 1923 when this man became sick, Watkins was made acting parliamentarian. In 1935 the senate made him "official" parliamentarian, the first time that had happened. His assistant is Edward Hickey, who may succeed him some day.

(The house parliamentarian is Lewis Descher. He's had that job since 1928. Being a much younger man than Watkins, he may wind up having been a parliamentarian longer.)

Admitted Robbers Say Pawnbroker Backed Gem Theft

DALLAS, June 15—(AP)—Thomas Schwartz, former Dallas pawnbroker, heard two admitted holdup men testify at his trial here that he backed them in a $40,000 jewelry robbery.

Schwartz is charged as an accomplice in the Feb. 17 robbery of the fashionable W. W. Shortall home here.

Wednesday, William Trent Jarrette, 34, and Lester Emmett Bennett, 35, said that Schwartz supplied them with pistols for the robbery. Bennett said he was handed a blackjack with the comment: "Sometimes it's better to use one of these than to shoot people."

Jarrette and Bennett, escapees from the Cincinnati O. jail have admitted the holdup and are awaiting trial.

Both testified that Schwartz promised to "finance" the holdup and divide the money with them. After the robbery, they said, he took the jewels and gave them a few hundred dollars during the next few weeks.

Jarrette said the two became impatient and urged that Schwartz meet them. However, when Jarrette showed up at an agreed meeting place, he found City Detective Capt. Will Fritz instead of Schwartz.

Bennett saw Jarrette's arrest but escaped. He was captured several weeks later in Seattle.

Earlier Mrs. Shortall told of giving up three diamond rings to two men who entered her home.

New Ultimatum Is Given Striking Houston Cabbies

HOUSTON, June 15—(AP)—Houston's 618 striking taxicab drivers face another deadline set by Mayor Oscar Holcombe at 4 p. m. today.

Holcombe threatened to revoke the licenses of drivers who did not return to work by 4 p. m. Wednesday, but granted a 24-hour extension after a plea for more time from taxi drivers.

Two hours before Wednesday's deadline, the AFL drivers sent word to Holcombe that the strike would continue until action is taken on their charges to police brutality and discrimination.

Will Break Firms Carroll Bass, operator of the largest of the city's 18 taxicab firms, said he did not think enough drivers would return to work today to ease the city's transportation problem.

If the deadline prevails and they do not return, the city's companies will be broken financially," he said.

Members of the taxicab drivers union Local 349 (AFL) decided at a meeting Tuesday to go fishing until city officials took action on their charges.

The union says three drivers, including a former convict, were arrested after a pickup truck, off-duty policeman parked his private car in a bus station taxi zone.

They also claim police, since June 6, have gone out of their way to give cabdrivers traffic tickets.

Wont Take Orders Holcombe set his first deadline after he told union officials that the investigation would continue, "not that the taxicab union use any other group is going to tell the city it must do something by a certain time."

Corsicana School Board Requesting $197,052 In Gilmer-Aikin Aid Funds

Application for $197,052 in Gilmer-Aikin funds was approved by the Corsicana Board of Education Tuesday night as it adopted the 1950-51 school calendar.

The application disclosed an estimated cost of $474,767 to operate the school system next year. Board members attending the session were Mrs. H. R. Stroube, R. L. Wheelock, Doyle West, Embury Ferguson and C. E. Middleton.

Two "complaints" were brought to the board's attention, but no action was taken immediately. Ferguson reported being advised that a student could not take his examinations unless "he paid 25¢" for mimeographed copies. Norwood explained that this program had been in effect for some time but that the PTA would take care of any student who couldn't afford to pay the quarter. The duplicated copies of the examinations are more convenient and efficient, he explained, since they eliminate the necessity of writing exams on the blackboard and having students copy them off the board.

The other matter, brought up by West, involved the School Factor. West said the factor isn't receiving "recognition of authority" because of uniform needs. Board members praised the patrol and seemed agreed, however, that the uniform problem is for the PTA and individual schools to solve.

Those elected are Martha Harrell, who will teach sixth grade and music at Travis school; Ted S. Metcalf, Arthur Thomas Barrett, William A. Speary, James Muesse and Henry Waller, negro. Texas' Educational Problems Are Discussed By State Board Member

Jack Hawkins, Groesbeck publisher and member of the Texas state board of education, addressed the Corsicana Rotary Club Wednesday and spoke on Texas' educational problems and advancement.

Speaking about the recent U. S. Supreme court decision on the segregation of negroes, he said, "If it's the court's interpretation of the entire 14th amendment, it should have gone all out and presented the entire outline at one time instead of piecemeal."

He went on to say the taking of the tidelands by a Supreme Court decision was a steal and a breaking of a treaty between Texas and the United States.

Hawkins said, "We should use our ballots to uphold the name and honor of our state and fight for what we think is right."

The speaker said the tidelands ruling will affect both white and negro schools because money from these tidelands operations helps support the schools.

Hawkins said he believed most colored students wanted separate and equal schools but that a few were losing no time in taking advantage of the Supreme Court ruling and enrolling in state schools.

He said many ticklish situations for providing equal schools were arising in some of the smaller communities.

"These cases," he said, are occurring where there are not enough white or negro students for standard schools. They should consolidate with larger schools and the segregation ruling probably will hasten these consolidations."

He charged that many negro lawyers were entering wedges wherever possible to force the court's ruling to be accepted.

"The problem of providing equal education facilities for white and negroes is the problem of the schools, the boards of education, the churches, civic clubs and citizenry at large. We must cooperate to bring about the best results," he said.

Observing Flag Day, Garland Lincecum, a guest, led the club in reciting the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Dr. W. W. Carter presented a motion that the Rotary Club of Fort Worth be advised of Dr. Erwin F. Bohmfalk's move to that city and urged the club to find a place for him. John Calhoun seconded the motion.

Dr. Bohmfalk extended his thanks to the club and led the group in singing.

Guests at the meeting besides Lincecum included Jim Youdon, Ted Lovell and Barney Flynn, all of Dallas; W. H. Norwood, Corsicana superintendent of schools, and H. O. Whitehurst, Groesbeck superintendent of schools.

Visiting Rotarians were George E. Adams, Bryan, and Ray E. Miles, Garnett, Kans.

The bid for the construction of the college building cannot be expected before August and probably September.

The college, however, has considerable time remaining on its lease on its present quarters at the old Corsicana Field, Air Activities of Texas, site southeast of Corsicana, and there is no immediate hurry for the new plant.

Area Officers Seek Negro Who Hit Ennis Girl
Police over a wide area today were seeking an unidentified negro who walked into a home near Ennis Tuesday and maliciously struck a 15-year-old Dallas girl.

Ellis county authorities said the girl was Marietta Morris, who was visiting a sister at Ennis.

Only the young girl and her sister's baby were in the house at the time.

Navarro Sheriff David Castles, who joined in the search with six state police units and other county officers, said the girl related this story:

At about 11:15 a. m. an unshaven negro of 35 or 40 walked into the house.

"I'm hungry," he said, walking into the kitchen. The girl then went into a bedroom where the baby was.

Moments later the negro came into the bedroom, sat down beside the girl and remarked what a pretty baby the infant was.

Then, without any reason whatever, the negro suddenly struck the girl with his fist, hitting her in the eye. He then fled.

Officers said the negro did not attempt to molest the girl.

When her sister returned to the house, she was advised of the incident and police were called.

A suspect was arrested in Corsicana Tuesday night but later released. Ennis authorities reported Wednesday that another suspect is being held at Cleburne.

A Plea

For A Broken Hearted Mother

Yes, only a faint memory now remains of Ray. His poor old white-haired mother paid society the price—her son's life.

No one knows how hard this mother fought to save him, and the grief and sorrow this brought in her old days. But, she was forced to give.

Now the debt is paid in full. I am sure it is worth a little one dollar bill for those who are happy over the way this debt was paid.

Who could have cheaper entertainment than just one dollar for two years' of pleasure? She was told over and over of the sympathy for her, but, that her son should die.

Will every one back their sympathy now, or is that forgotten too?

This broken-hearted mother has to live on some way, and is largely dependent on her friends and sympathizers.

How can this slip through our minds and our conscience or ever let us enjoy our children, mothers and home?

Just a one dollar bill out of the check this week will help this poor old mother. Her mind, body, heart and home is broken for the rest of her days.

Society owes a debt now. Will it be paid?—or will the love of money be the answer?

If you have an extra dollar and don't know what to do with it—just slip it in an envelope and mail it to:

Mrs. Ed Ray,
1010 Pease Street,
Vernon, Texas.

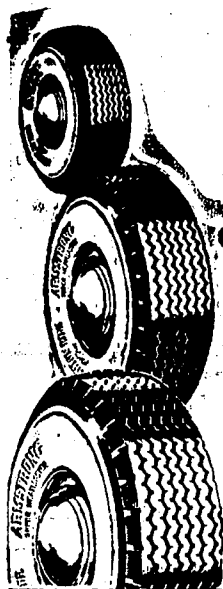

I know this will be appreciated.

Housewives Are Warned Against Cleaning Solvents

AUSTIN, June 15—(Sp)—There's a lot of punch coked up in that little bottle of cleaning solvent out on the back porch. State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox called them "hazardous, when special precautions are not used."

It seems that solvent vapors are heavier than air, which, means, according to Dr. Cox, that they will collect at floor levels. The danger of using solvent for such household chores as taking spots off the linoleum, or cleaning dirt or grease off the back steps, is that you have to get on your knees to do the job.

Closer to Vapors

And when you're on your knees, you're closer to the accumulation of solvent vapor.

The state health officer proved his whole point with this story: A man attempted to remove the grease from the underside of his car by spraying it with a spray gun he had brought home from his construction job. He was found dead under the car, suffocated by the vapor of the cleaning agent.

Proper use of cleaning solvent, says the doctor, call for opening all the doors and windows when cleaning floors, the underside of household furniture, or clothing. The idea is to get as much ventilation as possible. A fan blowing on the working area is helpful.

When doing job of this sort, work for a short time—avoiding inhaling the vapors as much as possible—and then get into the fresh air for a minute or two.

The first symptoms of vapor poisoning are nausea, dizziness, headache and fatigue. When you notice them, get outside as soon as possible, the health official advises.

Telephone Firm May Reduce Its Plans For Dallas

DALLAS, June 15—(P)—Southwestern Bell Telephone Company says it may have to reduce planned large-scale expansion and service improvements here because of "unsatisfactory" rate increases granted yesterday by the city council.

Division Manager C. L. Stewart and other firm officials met with the council to decide whether to accept the increases, which boosted one-party residence rates from $3.50 to $4.25 a month and one-party business rates from $3.50 to $10.50.

Stewart said: "We cannot continue to risk additional millions to enlarge the telephone system to do the job we want to do, knowing that present inadequate earnings in Dallas will continue to decrease as we continue to add to the plant at present-day costs."

The council vote was 6 to 1. The increase would add $1,888,008 to the firm's gross revenues annually, against increases which Southwestern Bell said would add $4,313,400.

Farm Talk—

Farmer's Future Seen As Bright; "Stubbornness" Being Ironed Out

By CLYDE JOHNSON
Daily Sun Staff

A look into agriculture's past reveals both remarkable progress and a lingering stubbornness that finally is being ironed out.

The mules have gone into dog food, the horse-drawn cultivators have rusted into junk, and the housewife now watches television while electrical gadgets churn the milk and do the laundry.

These modern devices have saved countless hours of energy; they've made farmers out of city slickers, driven the old-time share-cropper into a frustrated life under bright lights, and caused government control of the nation's economy. And today's farmer is envied by many.

The outstanding agricultural problems, however, have lived on through the years—such as high yield techniques.

Nitrogen fertilizer, cover crops, rotation and other farm practices were known early in this century. But the "Doubling Thomas" farmer wouldn't, or couldn't "afford" to follow the college boys' advice.

So, as if leading a blind man across the street, Uncle Sam has stepped in with his Farm-aid program, to help the skeptical ones see the light.

Results are being seen more and more each day—such as in Navarro county, which is slated this fall to have the highest cotton yield ever.

And, after many years of neglect, the farmer is no longer a mere sun-tanned creature in overalls behind a plow, with his crop prices controlled by Wall Street. He's the most important guy in the world, because he feeds and clothes the world.

America is finally getting around to recognizing him. And his future is, indeed, bright.

Central Texas farmers who haven't applied insecticides since the heavy rains should do so immediately. This advice from agriculturalists also applies to farmers who haven't made the third application. Many fields in this area, including Navarro county, now have squares large enough for weevils to deposit eggs. And ships, of course, continue to do damage in many untreated fields.

Nearly 4,000 farmers in Navarro, Ellis, Hill, Limestone and Freestone counties have been urged to attend a rural telephone meeting at the Ennis City Hall Friday at 8 p. m. Oslo Caudle, manager of the Electric Co-op serving the five counties, and State Rep. George Nokes will address the mass meeting. Facts about setting up telephone co-ops will be explained.

MIRACLE MEAT: Those "wonder drugs" you've been taking for a bad cold and other infections are being used to produce more meat, poultry and eggs. Scientists at College Station report that swine, chickens and turkeys have shown remarkably growth when fed the antibiotics (aureomycin, streptomycin and penicillin). "Growth responses produced by these 'wonder drugs' are little short of miraculous," it's reported.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, June 15.—(AP)—A morning rally in the stock market fizzled out this afternoon. Closing prices showed a scramble of gains and losses.

At the one stage, around noon, prices went up fractions to two points or so. The rise was not a sharp two-day decline which carried the market down from a four-year top hit Monday.

During the afternoon, gains were gradually pared and some issues drifted into the minus column.

Steels, autos and rails were morning favorites. The carriers later displayed more resiliency than the other two groups.

MISS ANNE CLEMENTS, CAMP FIRE EXECUTIVE, WILL QUIT POST WITHIN FEW WEEKS

The able leadership of Miss Anne Clements, Camp Fire Girls executive in Corsicana will be terminated with the closing of the current camping season. Miss Clements offered her resignation, accepted with widespread regret, to the Camp Fire board in its monthly meeting Monday evening at Camp Wanica.

Miss Clements, who came to the local office of the organization from Fort Worth, has served for the past year. She succeeded Miss Gertrude Patrick, now acting in identical capacity for the Corpus Christi Camp Fire Girls.

To attend University. At the close of the current week, the second and final one for Camp Fire campers at Wanica, Miss Clements' resignation will become effective. After a short vacation she will enroll for late summer classes at the University of Texas, Austin, where she will work toward her Master's degree. Her plans for fall are not definite.

Her resignation was offered through Mrs. L. S. Cooper, personnel chairman, whose responsibility it will be to interview applicants for the post.

The Leaders' Association, which also met in monthly session earlier in the day, presented a farewell cash gift to Miss Clements in appreciation for her effective service here.

Robert Cason presided for the board meeting, with Dave Walker offering a treasury report and Miss Frances Broadstreet reporting on recent awards.

A camp report showed that 36 girls had enjoyed the opening session for Blue Birds, and that 26 girls are enrolled for the current session.

Will Sell Candy. The board once more voted to sell Hollywood candy mints, as the Camp Fire Girls did this year, but fruit flavors are to be included in the box assortments.

The goal is sale of 2500 boxes. In the February, 1950, sale the organization realized $650, representing profits on 1700 boxes.

Attending the board meeting were Miss Broadstreet, Mmes. Cooper and Max Rosenblum, Mssrs. Cason, Walker, William Acosta, Bill Holman, Dean Milkes, Joe Tate and Matt Dawson.

This week's camp closes Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when a water show will be offered for the entertainment of parents and other guests attending the traditional open house which terminates each week's camping period.

Parents of campers then have an opportunity to see the attractive site and meet the counselors.

The camp will be inactivated for the following week after which Cleburne Camp Fire Girls will take over for another week's session.

On the Saturday night preceding the closing of the current week, a Council Fire will be held for the awarding of honors earned during camp.

Of especial interest will be the awarding of Junior Life Saving badges. Miss Carol Pinkston, swimming instructor, has her water safety instructor's certificate.

COMPLETE DEVOTION IS ONLY SOLUTION SAYS HEBREW SEEH

Prophet Malachi Demands Moral and Spiritual Reform—Shows People That National Disaster Results From Private Sins—Reveals That Church Tithes Are Test Of Loyalty

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS and EARL L. DOUGLASS.

At the half-way mark of the twentieth century, the world is in the most serious situation ever recorded in history. The recent statements by some of our scientists about the power and destructiveness of modern atomic weapons have awakened millions to their predicament. Thoughtful persons are inclined to be panicky over the present world outlook. They are terrified by recent developments in Europe and Asia, and by the trend of things generally. Frightened rich men are buying secluded retreats. In the hope of escaping possible atomic or hydrogen bombs. The number of fear-filled persons who foresee general catastrophe is increasing.

This situation is having a natural and inevitable result. The discerning perceive that the world is undergoing a great purge for its sinning. They recognize that there must be a reckoning with the living God.

Persecution Rouses Christians. Christians in many countries in Europe are finding their religious freedom restricted and seeing their religious leaders persecuted. Only in a crisis such as prevails today do most persons realize that God is the essential factor. Events everywhere are a clarion call to repentance and a return to Him.

There is a close analogy between the case of Judah and Israel 2400 years ago and our present times. For the people, sinning, the Hebrew people were nationally punished. And their prophets, like ours, were forever calling the people back to loyalty to the Lord who had made and preserved them as a nation. It took the terrible experience of the exile to lead the Jews back to repentance, and to a final abandonment of idolatry. What our purgation will be is already foreshadowed in current events.

The prophet Malachi, with whom this week's Sunday school lesson is concerned, lived about 440 B. C. Malachi means "messenger," whether this was his real name or his title we do not know. In either case, he brought a much-needed message to a people who had become as negligent and perfunctory in their religion as many modern Christians—and who were undergoing a national punishment for it.

Malachi's book abounds in illustrations of the people's lost or lax faith. They had become heathen in their low standards of life; greedy, oppressive, self-absorption, neglected religious duties, divorce. Malachi is uncompromisingly severe upon the then prevailing divorce quaking Jehovah as saying, "I hate putting away." They had failed to offer to the Temple the tithes which the Mosaic Law enjoined. And the sacrifices which they offered were worthless animals instead of those chosen from the unblemished and best of the flock.

Offerings that Malachi brought to his people was a denunciation of their failures and a demand for their return to a wholehearted devotion to God. As the first act of their return, he urged them to live up to their covenant in the matter of tithes and offerings. "Bring we the whole tithing into the storehouse, that there may be food in my house, and prove me now here-with, saith Jehovah of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it." God was willing, as He always is, to reward his people, but they must first prove their devotion. It was not their money that the Lord desired, but themselves. Their tithes were but a test of their devotion.

The test is still a valid one. As Christians, we believe that God made us and all that is ours. We are his stewards, using his gifts under his supervision. How we use them is the proof of our loyalty.

God and all the attributes of God are eternal.—Spinoza.
